

Correspondence

Response: Re: Living on the Edge

To the Editor: I appreciate the kind words of Dr. Frey. For many years he has inspired me through his example to share patient experiences after reflection and to think critically about our roles as family physicians. This role is prescience during patient's lives, but it is also present even after their death, when we share with others what we learn and experience.

Adam Goldstein, MD, MPH
University of North Carolina School of Medicine Chapel Hill, NC
aog@med.unc.edu

doi: 10.3122/jabfm.2011.05.110173