The Journal of the American Board of Family Practice

VOLUME 13, NUMBER 6 NOVEMBER-DECEMBER 2000

CONTENTS

ORIGINAL ARTICLES

Quality of Life in Women with Urinary Tract Infections: Is Benign Disease a Mismomer?
Anne K. Ellis and Sarita Verma 392

Why Are Antibiotics Prescribed for Patients with Acute Bronchitis? A Postintervention Analysis
William J. Hueston, Julia E. Hopper, Elizabeth N. Dacus, and Arch G. Mainous III 398

Successful Withdrawal of Thyroid Hormone Therapy in Nursing Home Patients
Patrick P. Coll and Nicolas N. Abourizk 403

Effects of Physician Supply on the Early Detection of Breast Cancer
Jeanne M. Ferrante, Eduardo C. Gonzalez, Naazneen Pal, and Richard G. Roetzheim 408

CLINICAL REVIEW

Brown Recluse Spider Bites
Thomas P. Forks 415

MEDICAL PRACTICE

When You Hear Hoof Beats: Four Principles for Separating Zebras From Horses
C. Scott Smith and Douglas S. Paauw 424

First-Episode Psychosis: A Clinical Approach
S. Charles Schulz, Deanna Bass, and Cynthia S. Vrabel 430

SPECIAL COMMUNICATION

Compassion and the Art of Family Medicine: From Osler to Oprah
Robert E. Rakel 440

JABFP November–December 2000 Vol. 13 No. 6