No one sees the patient like an FP.

And no one sees the FP like FamilyPractice.com. Her dreams. Her fears. Her concern that the flu could pre-empt her best friend's birthday party, or that her funny-looking kneecaps are ruining her social life. More than any other practice, Family Medicine requires the physician to see, hear and understand each patient as a unique whole, and as a reflection of a unique environment. FamilyPractice.com is a website for every FP who wants to hone diagnostic skills, evaluate research, read opinions, and stay abreast of the latest issues in the practice of Family Medicine. Every day.

Because Family Medicine isn't just a practice. It's a passion.
