Response: Re: The Complex Interpretation and Management of Zika Virus Test Results

To the Editor: Thank you to Drs Yasril and Wiwanitkit for raising these additional points regarding our article. We agree that clinicians should be aware of all possible sources of error in testing for Zika virus.

Kenneth W. Lin, MD, MPH,
Department of Family Medicine, Georgetown University Medical Center

Rachael Piltch-Loeb, MSPH,
New York University College of Global Public Health, and

Michael A. Stoto, PhD,
Department of Health Systems Administration, Georgetown University, Washington, DC

The above letter was referred to the author of the article in question, who offers the following reply.