

JABFM

JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN BOARD OF FAMILY MEDICINE

VOLUME 35, NUMBER 3

MAY-JUNE 2022

Special Telehealth Issue

IN THIS ISSUE:

- Scope and Practice by Physician Race and Ethnicity
- Patient- and Provider-Level Factors, and Telemedicine Utilization
- Telemedicine Approaches for Mental Health Disorders
- Telemedicine Impact on Visit Completion Rate
- Telehealth with Short Interval Follow-up
- Telephone, Televideo, and In-Office Visits Diagnoses
- Video Visits in a Fee-for-Service Model
- Appropriate Telemedicine in Primary Care
- A Qualitative Examination of Telemedicine Implementation
- Envisioning the Future of Virtual Primary Care
- Transitional Care Management and Reduced Readmissions
- Adaptation of the DPP to Address Prediabetes
- Disparities in Use of Patient Portals
- Previous SARS-CoV-2 Infection and Persistent Symptoms
- Barriers and Facilitators in Medication Abortion
- Equity and Telehealth Policy
- A New Pandemic of Loneliness
- Tools and Infrastructure for a Diverse Workforce
- eConsult Service and COVID-19 Questions
- Standardized Patient Assessments at the Wellness Visit
- Ambulatory Medication Safety in Primary Care
- Working Framework for Virtual Primary Care
- Never Having Had a Video Visit
- Telehealth and the Needs of Vulnerable Elders