

6. Goldschmidt RH, Dong BJ, Saba GW, DeRemer PA, Legg JJ. AIDS at the crossroads: a report from the 1990 International Conference on AIDS—San Francisco. J Am Board Fam Pract 1990; 3:297-304.
7. Stephens GG. Easy questions, difficult answers. J Am Board Fam Pract 1990; 3:224-6.

The above letter was referred to the author in question, who offers the following reply:

To the Editor: Dr. Sugarman's objections to my editorial are important. While his was the only critical letter I received (so far), I'd guess that he is correct in believing that "many other family physicians will reject (my) arguments and conclusions . . ." There is an issue here that needs to be debated; i.e., how far family practice should be transformed into community medicine.

Julian Tudor Hart, a Welsh general practitioner, has argued the affirmative case eloquently in his recent book, A New Kind of Doctor,¹ and John Fry describes how this is happening in Great Britain in a guest editorial in this issue of JABFP.²

The relation between public health and medical practice was a hot issue in the early decades of this century. Both Paul Starr³ and James Burow⁴ discussed it from economic and political perspectives, and Sinclair Lewis⁵ included it in his novel, Arrowsmith, with the character, Dr. Almus Pickerbaugh. Arrowsmith's vocational dilemma—general practice versus public health versus research—was not resolved in the novel any more than it is today.

What is the core work of family physicians? The work that deserves our highest priority of time, energy, and skill? During the last 20 years, we have had a number of contenders for defining our best vocational self-understanding—general practice, family medicine (narrowly defined), generic primary care, biopsychosocial medicine, and now community-oriented primary care—to name some of the most alluring. I am on the record, ad nauseum, for defending personal medicine, as defined and described by the likes of Peabody, Houston, Balint, Tumulty, and Berger, to occupy first place in my professional heart and life.

I do not assume that Dr. Sugarman objects to this priority—perhaps it is his, too. But when he writes that ". . . epidemiology is the basic science of family practice, in much the same way that immunology is the basic science of rheumatology . . .," I have to resist such a narrow understanding of our work. It represents the sort of excess that my editorial criticized.

G. Gayle Stephens, M.D.
Birmingham, AL

P.S. Since writing this reply, a wonderfully relevant piece by Jared Goldstein has appeared in the Hastings Center Report (Desperately seeking science: the creation of knowledge. Hastings Cent Rep 1990; 20:26-36). I recommend it to any who are interested.

References

1. Hart J. A new kind of doctor: the general practitioner's part in the health of the community. London: Merlin Press, 1988.
2. Fry J. Traumatic evolution: recent changes in British general practice. J Am Board Fam Pract 1991; 4:125-6.
3. Starr P. The social transformation of American medicine. New York: Basic Books, 1982.
4. Burow J. American Medical Association. Voice of American medicine. Baltimore: The Johns Hopkins Press, 1963.
5. Lewis S. Arrowsmith. New York, Scarborough, Ontario: New American Library, 1924.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Classified advertising orders, correspondence and payments should be directed to: JABFP, Classified Advertising, 1440 Main Street, Waltham, MA 02154.

Classified advertisements placed with JABFP are restricted to physician recruitment, faculty positions, CME courses/seminars and practices for sale. All ads must relate to the medical field and are subject to approval.

Please refer to the schedule below for closing dates. Classified rate is $1.40 per word (minimum charge of $75.00 per ad insertion) and $95.00 per column inch for classified display ads. Prepayment in full is required with all classified advertising. We accept American Express, Visa or Mastercard. Confidential reply boxes are an additional $10.00 per insertion. Responses are sent directly every Tuesday and Thursday and the box will remain open for three months.

All advertisements for employment must be non-discriminatory and comply with all applicable laws and regulations. Ads that discriminate against applicants based on sex, age, race, religion, marital status or physical handicap will not be accepted.

NOTE: Our classified advertisements are all set in the same typeface and format. All ads are highlighted by geographic territory.

For more information please call (800) 635-6991 (outside MA), (617) 893-3800 (in MA). Fax # (617) 893-5003.

Issue Date	Closing Date	Issue Date	Closing Date
Jan.-Feb.	Dec. 12, 1990	March-April	Feb. 1, 1991
May-June	April 1, 1991	July-Aug.	June 3, 1991
Sept.-Oct	Aug. 1, 1991	Nov.-Dec.	Oct. 1, 1991

NORTHEAST

FAMILY PHYSICIAN BC/BE—ENJOY THE BENEFITS OF group practice and the independence of solo practice in the affluent communities of west-suburban Boston. Well-respected community hospital is seeking a high-calibre physician to fill upcoming vacancy in an established practice. Competitive compensation and benefits. Established coverage and referral arrangements. Financial, operational, and marketing support provided. Please forward CV to: Glover Memorial Hospital, 148 Chestnut Street, Needham, MA 02192. Attn: Mr. Bussell.

OPPORTUNITY AVAILABLE—FOR BC/BE FAMILY PRACTITIONER in beautiful seacoast area of New Hampshire. Successful candidate will join an expanding single specialty/family practice opportunity. Affiliation with strong JCAHO hospital with full clinical department backup. Excellent four season recreation opportunities. 1 hour from Boston and White Mountains. Send curriculum vitae to: Ron Goodspeed, Exeter Hospital, 10 Buzell Avenue, Exeter, NH 03833.

SOUTHEAST

FAMILY PRACTITIONERS—HEALTHTRUST, INC. AN EMPLOYEE OWNED HOSPITAL COMPANY, owns 85 state-of-the-art facilities in many lovely urban, suburban and rural communities throughout the U.S. There are a variety of solo, group & associate private practice opportunities in the following states: ALABAMA, ARIZONA, ARKANSAS, CALIFORNIA, FLORIDA, GEORGIA, IDAHO, INDIANA, KENTUCKY, LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI, NORTH CAROLINA, OKLAHOMA, OREGON, SOUTH CAROLINA, TENNESSEE, TEXAS, UTAH, VIRGINIA, WASHINGTON, WYOMING. Let us help you explore a practice opportunity in a community that's just right for you. Excellent financial package available. All inquiries are personal & confidential. For more information about these opportunities call toll free 1-800-825-3463 or send your CV to HealthTrust, Physician Relations Department, 4525 Harding Road, Nashville, TN 37205.

Continued on next page